| HEAVY YIELDER1. Carolina Ruby              | Developed by Dr. Wanda Collins at N.C.S.U. Red skin like the old Rose Centennial. Dark orange meat. Resists fusarium wilt, soil rot, susceptible to root knot Nematode. Great for northern states. 80-90 days. (Vine type) - SOLD IN QUANTITIES OF 12 ONLY  |
| HEAVY YIELDER2. Beauregard                 | Developed at Louisiana Agri Exp. Station. Has a copper skin, moderately orange flesh, and is consistent in shape. Tolerant to Soil Pox. Outyields all other Sweet Potatoes. Does not crack open. Will yield 400-500 bushels per acre. Good cash crop. Resistant to white grubs and soil rot. Susceptible to root knot nematode. 80-90 days. (Vine type) |
| HEAVY YIELDER3. Georgia JetsRed Yams  | Remarkable hardiness. Great for our northern neighbors. Has rose petal skin that truly stands out in the field. Light orange meat. Excellent baker. Great for truckers and peddlers. Matures about 80-90 days with normal rainfall. (Vine type)   |
| (HEIRLOOM)4. Centennial                    | Bred at Louisiana Exp. Station at Baton Rouge 1962. Orange, smooth skin, yields heavy in normal year. Great for truckers and peddlers. Good grade of potatoes. Also has tolerance to fusarium wilt and internal cork. Stores well. About 90 days. (Vine type)   |
| HEAVY YIELDER5. Vardaman                   | Very delicious eating potato, has light orange skin and dark meat inside, no strings. Ideal for garden and small space. Vines good for small gardens. About 90 days. (Bush type)  |
| (HEIRLOOM)6. BunchPorto Rico          | Light yellow to gold colored skin at harvest time. Cream to orange meat. Good eating, baking, and cooking potato. Plants have purple stems. Ideal for gardens with small space. 90-100 days. (Bush type)  |
| (HEIRLOOM)7. Nancy Hall                    | Grandpa's favorite. An old standby. Has cream flesh, cream/yellow inside. Delicious after being cured in storage. Sweet and tasty. White milk flows after slicing open. A real old-time favorite. Normal maturity around 110 days. Keeps very well. Ol' timey flavor. (Vine type)   |
| (HEIRLOOM)8. White TriumphsWhite Yams | Tan skin and snow-white meat; smooth outside shaped nicely. Cooks very well. 90-120 days maturity. Sweet and dryer after curing. (Vine type)  |
| 9. Red Japanese                                       | Red/purple skin, ivory flesh. Bred for the Asian market. High dry matter but sweet. Resists fusarium wilt, susceptible to soil rot, root knot nematode, susceptible russet crack. Matures 110 days. (Vine type)   |
